

Title: Chinese beginners/Continuers HSC Writing Guide

Author: Victor Zhang; Moony Feng; Betty Kuan

Publisher: Sinofield Australia

It is hard to write characters, and it is even harder to write an essay in Chinese characters. As we all know, students need to do a great deal writing practice to improve their writing skills. However, they cannot find any support materials and exercise questions target at writing. This book includes lots of writing questions and sample answers which would be useful and helpful for my student to improve their writing skills. I will help my year 9 advanced students to practice the writing questions in order to improve their skills in Chinese writing. One great thing about this resource is that there is sample writing for the questions which I can used as reading resource in my Chinese class. I would give 4/5 score for this resource.
